Handbook

Policies and Procedures

This handbook of policies and procedures serves as a guide to providing you with the best possible experience as a Lalanne teacher.

As a Lalanne teacher, you represent a program that serves students, promotes Catholic values, supports Catholic education, and strives to enable its participants to grow in their faith. As members of Lalanne, you are ambassadors of The University of Dayton. Thus, your department should reflect your commitment to Catholic ideals and Catholic education.

Your efforts in Lalanne will contribute to building a new vision of education in Catholic schools. Much of what is expected of a member of Lalanne is a matter of using common sense and practicing sound judgment.

Disregard of the policies, procedures and guidelines in this handbook could result in your dismissal from the program. Adherence to these guidelines will help build a stronger program and will contribute to a more enjoyable community experience.

Please note that the policies in this handbook are subject to change at the discretion of the staff of the Center for Catholic Education.

Purpose of Lalanne

Lalanne is designed to meet the needs of beginning teachers who would like to minister in a Catholic school. Lalanne teachers make a two-year commitment to teach in a city-center school while living in community and pursuing professional and spiritual development.

History

Lalanne is an initiative of the Center for Catholic Education of the School of Education and Allied Professions (SOE&AP) at the University of Dayton. Service in Lalanne is a commitment to making a difference in the lives of children who face the difficulties of daily life.

Jean Baptiste Lalanne was one of the original seven members of the Society of Mary (Marianists), the religious order that sponsors the University of Dayton. Lalanne was the first person to commit himself to the vision of Fr. Chaminade after learning of the priest's desire to found a religious order. Lalanne was a noted educator and his success was due in large measure to his devotedness to education as both a ministry and a profession, to his great love of children, and to his sympathetic understanding of their problems. His career as an educator spanned more than sixty years. Next to Fr. Chaminade, no one played a more important role in establishing and developing the Marianist educational tradition than Father Jean Baptiste Lalanne did.

Lalanne will be a spiritual, emotional, and professional challenge that will sometimes require you to set aside personal wants and needs for the good of the community. It will require you to stretch and grow to new levels of understanding and experience. It is a time to work with young men and women who share convictions and ideals similar to your own. It is a time to be aware of your daily blessings, to give thanks, and to give back by serving young people and their families.

Foundation

The fundamental principles of teaching as service, community life, professional development and spiritual development are the cornerstones of Lalanne. Each aspect contributes to the quality of the experience and each is integral to the success of the program. The more you are able to dedicate yourself to each aspect of the program, the more likely you are to have a rewarding experience that will shape you for the rest of your life.

Teaching As Service

Through Lalanne, the University of Dayton is committed to providing to participating schools and dioceses professional educators who are engaged in the pursuit of excellence.

Lalanne teachers choose to serve children and to make their classroom a safe, faith-filled, emotionally supportive and educationally challenging environment. Your daily interactions with your students, colleagues, and other Lalanne teachers will have a profound effect on your own life and on the lives of those you serve.

Lalanne strives to provide you with the best possible experience. You, in turn, must strive to respond to the call to serve rather than the desire for personal achievement or recognition. In the midst of your teaching, you will catch a small but significant glimpse of progress as your students learn new concepts and ideas. In turn, you will grow in your ability as an educator and you will begin to overcome the obstacles that impede learning.

Moreover, you will become aware of your own gifts and talents. You may discover the ease with which you are able to bring a smile to the face of a troubled student, your ability to spark self-confidence in those who have none, or the gift of quiet patience with students who need extra time and attention.

A true sense of service must be rooted in the Gospel rather than in the self-serving notion of personally saving the world. Through the example of Jesus and the sometimes heroic sacrifices of parents and family, the resilience of students, and the commitment of other educators, Lalanne teachers learn that genuine service is founded on humility, mutuality and solidarity.

Lalanne teachers build partnerships with each other, with more experienced teachers, with parents, with other community organizations and the staff of the Center for Catholic Education and the School of Education and Allied Professions. Lalanne recognizes that the best kind of progress occurs when diverse groups join together in a collaborative approach to shared problems. Because a great deal of positive energy already exists in the communities in which you will serve, your two-year journey is one of mutual empowerment.

Teaching Expectations

Lalanne teachers are expected, at all times, to present themselves to their students and their communities in the most professional manner. Appropriate boundaries must always be maintained in the student-teacher relationship. Teachers must abide by (Arch)diocesan and school policies as highlighted in the school's handbook. Failure to abide by said guidelines may result in a teacher's dismissal from Lalanne.

Community Living

The group of believers was one in mind and heart.
No one said that any of his belongings was his own, but they all shared with one another everything they had
There was no one in the house who was in need.

Acts of the Apostles 4: 32-34

Community living is, at its best, a reflection of the first community of disciples of Jesus. Being aware of the needs of others and letting others know of your needs, will provide many benefits. Embracing a communal way of life will enable you to identify more closely with the realities of those whom you serve and make you a better servant.

One component of community living is to live simply. Living simply is not just a matter of pretending to be poor. It is an invitation to reflect on the impact the material world has in your own life. Since resources are limited, each Lalanne teacher will be required to make difficult fiscal and social choices while trying to make ends meet within your budget. Sometimes you will have to make personal and communal sacrifices in negotiating appropriate ways to pool resources and funds.

The concept of community living embraces more than money and possessions. More importantly, it is about building relationships, relying on one another, supporting each other and taking responsibility for the quality of life of the community. Community living challenges Lalanne teachers to focus on the important questions of how harmoniously they live in relationship with others, and how selflessly they extend themselves for their students, co-workers, other Lalanne teachers, God and the global community.

Practical aspects of community living:

Community Events

The community is expected to have at least one community event per month and to agree upon a maximum amount that will be spent on this community event per month.

Community Finances

Lalanne teachers will be required to pool their resources and work together to maintain a budget for weekly groceries and other community expenses. Unlike purely individual financial responsibilities, this requires members to openly communicate about accounting matters and to come to consensus regarding the grocery lists, community events etc.

Utilities

The cost of utilities for the Lalanne house are the responsibility of the Lalanne teachers who are living there. Information about the cost of utilities for the previous year may be available so that the community can budget appropriately. See the director for this information. Conservation methods will help to decrease cost of utilities or hold them in check.

Food

You will agree on a dollar amount per week per Lalanne teacher to be used for groceries. This amount will include food that you buy for school activities (food that you might be asked to bring for teacher socials, etc.), and occasional dinner guests (including Lalanne staff, guest speakers, etc.). This amount would not include the food that you would buy at the school cafeteria.

Household Maintenance

Proper care for the Lalanne residence will make your community living experience much more pleasant. Report problems to the custodian at the parish promptly. Make a schedule for regular cleaning and stick to it.

Household Supplies

An amount should be agreed upon for monthly purchases of cleaning supplies, light bulbs, vacuum cleaner bags, paper products, etc. Purchasing these and other items at discount warehouses such as Sam's Wholesale Clubs may save you money.

Housing

Lalanne teachers live in community with other Lalanne teachers. Housing, along with the necessary household furnishings and supplies, including beds, dressers, desks, kitchen appliances etc., is provided by Lalanne and/or the sponsoring (Arch)diocese.

Keys

Each Lalanne teacher receives a key to the residence. If a key is lost or stolen it should be reported immediately to the Director or local community contact. If locks on doors need to be changed because of lost keys, the cost is the responsibility of the teacher who lost the key. Please note that the Lalanne Director or the local community contact has a key for all locks. It is used only in case of emergency or to make household repairs.

Phone Service

The cost of the phone is the responsibility of the Lalanne community. Long distance charges are the responsibility of the person making the phone call. Phone bills will be mailed to the community. You should agree upon a method for accounting for long distance calls.

Paying Bills

It is suggested that one person in the community be responsible for paying monthly bills such as gas and electric, and phone. The community should decide who will be responsible for paying the bill each month and collecting the correct amount from each community member.

Community

The True Meaning of Community

If we are going to use the word meaningfully we must restrict it to a group of individuals who have learned how to communicate honestly with each other, whose relationships go deeper than their masks of composure, and who have developed some significant commitment to “rejoice together, mourn together, and to delight in each other, make other’s conditions our own.”

M. Scott Peck, M.D.
The Different Drum
Community Making and Peace

Community requires commitment to the other members of the group. Sometimes it requires sacrificing one’s own agenda to be with, to get know, and to come to care for the other members of the group.

Individualism and competition are highly esteemed social values in our contemporary culture. A Christian community challenges the values of individualism and competition that are prevalent in modern society by demonstrating that much can be accomplished by living and working together in a spirit of sacrifice, respect, dedication, and openness. A Christian community appreciates and celebrates the differences, individuality, and gifts of each of its members. It promotes collaboration rather than competition and cultivates a climate in which the members actively explore and nurture their faith.

Lalanne seeks to build a cooperative and supportive environment wherein Lalanne teachers may freely express their successes, joys, doubts, struggles and questions. The creation of such an environment requires each member to open him/herself to different or even opposing viewpoints, values, experiences, ideals, and expectations. The faith journey requires Lalanne teachers to explore, recognize, and appreciate that they live and work with people who have traveled different paths and, because it is founded on faith, the community supports those who believe that God invites us to a life of service. Lalanne teachers become more sensitive to diversity in community by opening their hearts and minds to honest, respectful dialogue.

The living reality of a faith-based community will sustain and challenge you on a daily basis. Unlike the experience of roommates, neighboring tenants or even co-workers who occupy a common space, a faith-based community demands that Lalanne teachers risk vulnerability by openly sharing themselves.

Lalanne teachers are encouraged to honestly communicate feelings, hopes, dreams and fears with one another and actively search for the connections that make them a community.

Community living demands flexibility and compromise. You must be willing to share the routine and often mundane tasks of day-to-day living. You must also willingly participate in decision-making by consensus and agree to abide by the community's decisions even when it does not suit you.

Through participation in group reflection and retreats, meetings and the day-to-day tasks of housework, shopping, cooking, and so forth, Lalanne teachers work together to create a cooperative and supportive environment. The service to which our faith invites us does not conclude at the end of the school day or at the end of the week. Rather, by serving one another in community, Lalanne teachers continue the process of mutual understanding, support and empowerment.

Community Living Expectations

Community living is one of the most important aspects of Lalanne experience. A supportive community will make a tremendous difference in your personal development and in your performance as a teacher. Becoming a community requires commitment and self-sacrifice. Your community will challenge you to grow and because of that, at times, you may have to sacrifice your personal interests for the sake of the community. Unlike most beginning teachers, you have the advantage of a community that provides a professional and spiritual support network.

Community can be the best part of the Lalanne experience but it can also be the most difficult. Living in community is not the equivalent of living in a dorm or apartment setting. In a good community, the members are committed to each other, they make time for one another, they care for each other, and they sacrifice for each other. Members strive to become more aware of how their daily actions or indifference may affect the lives of those around them. The reward of a successful community experience is one of the advantages that sets Lalanne apart from other programs. Lalanne teachers should be aware of the following expectations of community living:

- A. Eating dinner together. The community should decide on a schedule for sharing dinner together. You are encouraged to do this as often as is possible. This would mean that extra-curricular activities should be planned to take place before or after the dinner hour on agreed upon nights. On some community evenings, members may invite co-workers and guest who can share insight into professional development, community living, spiritual growth, etc. Eating together as many nights as possible is encouraged with the understanding that extra-curricular activities and other commitments will mean that not every member of the community will be able to be there every night.
- B. When it is feasible, do household chores such as cooking, shopping, cleaning, etc. together.
- C. Meeting weekly for prayer. You will decide on times of prayer together. When you have made the commitment, it is your responsibility to honor that commitment. You will take turns planning and leading the prayer. Take time to prepare the prayer in order to make it a helpful experience to the other members of the community. Be creative in your prayer. Take risks to try new types of prayer.
- D. Planning and participating in monthly community events like going to the movies, a game night at the house, putt-putt golf, etc.
- E. Meeting regularly to discuss community issues. It will be important to take time to discuss and plan certain aspects of your life together. The regular meeting will be a time to talk about the days and weeks ahead so that your schedules can be altered to make room for community events, to discuss how faithful you have been as a community to your agreements, etc.
- F. Except for vacations and occasional trips, Lalanne teachers are expected to live in the community residence on weekends.

Regularly Scheduled Community Meetings

To function smoothly, the community must establish a method of decision-making and distribution of responsibility. Regularly scheduled meetings (at least monthly), attended by all community members, are strongly recommended. It is best to establish a set time and day for these meetings (for example, the 2nd Tuesday of the month at 6:30) so Lalanne teachers can plan their schedules accordingly. These meetings should be scheduled in addition to the weekly fellowship/faith sharing meetings.

Monthly Community Events

As a community, you should plan at least one community event per month. All community members must attend the event, as its purpose is to strengthen group unity, cohesiveness, and camaraderie. When planning the event, Lalanne teachers should be sensitive to and respectful of others' interests. The community event may sometimes include inviting other people to participate in an activity.

Overnight Visitors

Lalanne teachers must decide on a policy for overnight visitors provided it is in accordance with Lalanne policies. A guest staying more than two nights should first be approved by the community. Please note that cohabitation and physical intimacy are prohibited in the community residence. Significant others who are staying overnight must sleep in a guest room.

Intimate Personal Relationships

Due to the nature of community, Lalanne will not place persons directly involved in intimate personal relationships in the same community.

Prayer

Pray in your own way, according to your own understanding, for God heeds and respects all languages of the human heart.

Liane Codes
The Reflecting Pond

Prayer and faith-sharing are the inextricable links which draw together service and community living and form the foundation for building and maintaining a healthy community. As an ecumenical group, Lalanne teachers are encouraged to enter respectfully into dialogue and open themselves to deeper questions of the heart. By celebrating, questioning, sharing faith and oneself, the Lalanne fellowship experience will require you to transcend an often hidden but real assumption that one's spirituality is a purely private matter which should not be expressed in public. In fact, spirituality comes alive when Lalanne teachers recognize that their work as teachers, their choice of a simple lifestyle, and their lives in community are all intimately connected to their faith in a generous and compassionate God who invites us to serve one another.

In sharing your personal stories and your faith, you will explore the sometimes intangible and unreflected questions of the heart:

What does my service as a teacher reveal to me about myself, others, God?
What does my membership in a faith-based community reveal to me about myself, others, God?
What values of my society/culture do I question as a result of my experience of service and community life?
How does my experience challenge me to grow in my faith?

God chose to become human. Spiritual life is rooted in one's ordinary human life. It embraces the life circumstances, culture, personality, and experiences of each Lalanne teacher. Through a common exploration of how each member finds God in his/her life Lalanne teachers take the time to notice and appreciate more of life and open themselves to a new dimension of the spiritual journey.

While recognizing that time for private personal reflection is needed to nurture a vibrant faith-life Lalanne teachers will share their joys and struggles in the context of evenings of fellowship/faith sharing. Realizing that each person brings a unique perspective to bear on questions relating to faith, Lalanne teachers must be sensitive to various stages of spiritual development and the individual level of comfort each member brings to the faith-sharing gathering.

Evenings of prayer and faith-sharing provide Lalanne teachers with an opportunity to listen to one's own experience and to the life experience of a few others. As Lalanne teachers connect their daily lives with their faith in God the rewards of a life of service, and community living become more apparent. The evenings of fellowship/faith-sharing will sustain you through the trials, tribulations and triumphs of your Lalanne experience.

Prayer Expectations

Weekly Prayer

Prayer and faith-sharing are the cornerstones of Lalanne. They are fundamental to the success of the program and are essential to the process of becoming community. Therefore, the community must establish a regular day and time for weekly prayer and faith-sharing and nothing must be allowed to interfere with that meeting. If a school event is scheduled on the same evening as the fellowship meeting the community must arrange to meet on another evening during that week.

Retreats

Members are expected to participate in weekend retreats, liturgy, or evenings of reflection that may be scheduled during the year.

Policies

It is assumed that teachers in Lalanne are mature adults. It is not the intention of these guidelines to tell you how to behave in every situation, nor are they to be viewed as a list of "dos" and "don'ts". Rather, the policies described herein are meant to clarify assumptions regarding your participation in Lalanne.

Absenteeism/Tardiness

Lalanne teachers who are absent or late for work must follow the protocol of the school of employment regarding absenteeism and tardiness. Except in the case of illness, you are expected to be at your job on a daily basis. As teachers you should not cause hardship on the principal or the school by your absence from your teaching responsibilities.

Appearance

As a Lalanne teacher, you are expected to dress professionally in accordance with your school's policies. In the Lalanne residence a sense of modesty must prevail. Please be sensitive to the coed living situation and employ your common sense.

Alcohol and Substance Abuse Policy

Alcohol and substance abuse and the use of illegal substances will not be tolerated. The habitual use of alcohol is discouraged. The inability to perform school related activities such as teaching and extracurricular activities, failure to participate in community life, or inappropriate behavior resulting from substance abuse are grounds for immediate dismissal from Lalanne. At parties or gatherings it is your responsibility to make sure that those consuming alcohol are of legal age.

1. Drug-related Offenses at Work: Pursuant to the Drug-Free Workplace Act of 1988, employees are prohibited from unlawfully manufacturing, distributing, dispensing, possessing or using a controlled substance in the workplace. As further required under the Drug-Free Workplace Act, an employee, as a condition of employment with Lalanne, must notify Lalanne if she or he is convicted of any criminal drug statute violation occurring in the workplace no later than five days after the conviction.
2. Drug and Alcohol Use: Unlawful manufacture, distribution, dispensing, possession, or use of a controlled substance, and excessive use of alcohol, that may adversely affect an employee's job performance, or that may reflect unfavorably upon public or governmental confidence in the manner in which Lalanne carries out its activities, is prohibited.

3. Employee Assistance: Assistance in dealing with drug and alcohol abuse is available through Lalanne. Lalanne's health insurance also provides coverage of certain expenses associated with the treatment of drug and alcohol addiction.
4. Disciplinary Action: Failure to adhere to this policy may result in disciplinary action, including termination.

Acceptable Use of Computer and Internet

The computer provided by Lalanne in the community house is intended to be for your use as you prepare lessons, communicate with Lalanne staff, and to keep in touch with family and friends during your commitment as a Lalanne teacher. Downloading or distributing obscene material, making threats, harassment or any activity that threatens the well being of anyone else, is strictly forbidden.

Bereavement Leave

Lalanne teachers must consult (Arch)diocesan policy and the school principal in regard to leave associated with the death of an immediate or extended family member.

Confidentiality

On occasion, Lalanne teachers may share issues of a personal nature with other Lalanne teachers or the Lalanne staff. It is expected that whatever is shared in the group or with individual Lalanne teachers will be kept in strict confidence except as described below. While striving to respect confidentiality, Lalanne teachers have a responsibility to bring to the attention of the Director anything that may adversely affect a member, his/her service to the school, or the well-being of the community. This obligation is meant to protect and preserve the welfare of Lalanne teachers, the community, and the students we serve. Any such information will be dealt with sensitively and with respect for those involved.

Termination

A noteworthy reality is that as a member of Lalanne you represent The University of Dayton and the diocese in which you are serving. In that regard, you are a public person and must conduct yourself in a professional manner at all times.

Early Termination (Voluntary)

Philosophical differences, difficulty with community living, problems in adapting to a different culture, physical and emotional health concerns, etc., may require a Lalanne teacher to voluntarily withdraw from the program.

Before making a decision to leave the program, a Lalanne teacher must first discuss the situation with the Director. While a decision to leave the program will be respected openness to the insights and suggestions of others is requested. However, leaving Lalanne is ultimately a Lalanne teacher's decision. The Lalanne teacher's decision must be declared in writing and a letter of resignation must be submitted to the Director. Please note that this does not mean that you are released from the contract that you have signed with the school in which you are teaching. All contractual agreements with the school will have to be met by the teacher.

Early Termination (Involuntary)

The Director may terminate a Lalanne teacher's participation in the program at any time. Lalanne teachers may be terminated for any serious moral or ethical offense, disregard of the philosophy, ethical, or religious beliefs of the school or the program, consistent failure in the classroom, the inability to live harmoniously with other Lalanne teachers, and/or serious physical or emotional problems.

For both voluntary and involuntary termination, Lalanne teachers are responsible for any moneys that may be owed for long distance phone calls, food, property damage etc.

Grievance Procedure

Scope

This procedure addresses situations in which participants in Lalanne, or those who are contractually associated with the Lalanne program, may pursue grievances specifically related to the administration of Lalanne, for instance, in disputes concerning the location or nature of participant assignments. Lalanne participants are reminded of the overlapping relationships that constitute Lalanne. Lalanne participants are simultaneously members of Lalanne, students governed by academic policies and rules of conduct, and employees of host institutions. Accordingly, this grievance procedure complements, but does not supplant, other requirements or policies that affect the participants. Policies governing academic performance, student conduct, and program eligibility, as well as those policies governing the employment relationship between participants and their host institutions, remain fully in force independent, and are not overridden by, this grievance procedure. Program participants are directed to apprise themselves of the specific procedures and remedies contained within either the relevant University of Dayton handbook or the employment agreement with their host school, governing those respective relationships.

In all cases, participants are encouraged to maintain open communication with the Lalanne Director in order to resolve any issues informally. In the event that issues concerning program administration cannot be resolved informally, the steps to be taken by the participant are provided in this procedure. While participants may have advisors of their own choosing and expense, these advisors may not actively participate in the grievance procedure. Minor deviations or exceptions for good cause as determined by the Lalanne Director to these procedures shall not invalidate these procedures or decisions.

Alternative Dispute Resolution (ADR)

ADR is available, but must be selected within 45 days of the underlying dispute. If an aggrieved party chooses ADR as a first option, a neutral party designated by the program will attempt to facilitate a mutually agreeable resolution. The neutral party must not have participated in any previous decisions concerning the issue in dispute. ADR is confidential, non-binding, and informal. No communications or proceedings of ADR may be referred to at the grievance hearing or arbitration stages. The neutral party may not participate in subsequent proceedings. If ADR is chosen by the aggrieved party, the deadlines for convening a hearing and of a hearing decision, 30 and 60 days respectively, are held in abeyance until the conclusion of ADR. At the initial session of ADR, the neutral party must provide written notice to the aggrieved party of his or her right to request a hearing. If ADR does not resolve the matter within 30 calendar days, the neutral party must again notify the aggrieved party of his or her right to request a hearing. At any time, the aggrieved party may decline ADR and proceed directly to the hearing process.

Hearing

An aggrieved party may request a grievance hearing without participating in ADR or, if ADR is selected, if it fails to result in a mutually agreeable resolution. The aggrieved party should make a written request for a hearing to the Lalanne Director. A request for a hearing must be made within one year after the date of the alleged occurrence. At the time a request for a hearing is made, the program should make available to the aggrieved party information that it relied upon in its disciplinary decision. The program will arrange for one or more pre-hearing conferences at a time mutually convenient to the parties. Pre-hearing conferences are not a substitute for a hearing. They are intended to facilitate a mutually agreeable resolution of the matter to make a hearing unnecessary or to narrow the issues to be decided at the hearing. The format of the pre-hearing conference may be flexible, involving meetings with one party at a time and/or with both parties together. Pre-hearing conferences are conducted by a faculty or staff member of the School of Education and Allied Professions who is mutually acceptable to both parties or as otherwise approved by the Lalanne Director. The Lalanne Director or the Director of the Center for Catholic Education will conduct the hearing. The person conducting the hearing may not have participated in any previous decisions concerning the issue in dispute. A hearing must be held no later than 30 calendar days after the filing of the grievance, and a written decision must be made no later than 60 calendar days after filing. This decision is final and not appealable.

Finances

Lalanne is not responsible for the loss of money or other personal belongings of a Lalanne teacher.

Loans

The University of Dayton student loan office has provided this explanation of loan deferments and cancellations.

Perkins Loans

Perkins Loans may be deferred and possibly cancelled for teachers in certain schools or teaching in certain disciplines. The Lalanne Director will be able to help you determine if you qualify for deferment or loan forgiveness. Lalanne teachers should contact their lender. (This would probably be the financial aid office of the school you attended.)

Stafford Loans

Loans issued after July 1, 1993, have a provision for deferment for economic hardship. The benefits of each loan are listed on your copy of the promissory note. There is a possibility that you will be able to delay the payment of your loan. You must contact your lender to verify the benefits and obtain the appropriate forms. The lender is the party who bills you or issues your coupon book.

Participation

Lalanne teachers are expected to actively participate in all aspects of Lalanne, including fellowship, training, in-service, responsibilities related to teaching service, and all community activities.

Part-Time Jobs

Part-time jobs that are outside the scope of a Lalanne teacher's service in the Catholic schools are not permitted without the permission of the Director. In most cases, outside employment during the school year will not be permitted.

Renewal of Contract

Lalanne teachers make a commitment to serve in Lalanne for two years. A Lalanne teacher's participation in the program may be terminated at any time. The school principals also reserve the right not to renew the contract of a teacher at the end of the first year of service.

Vacations

Lalanne teachers should consult the school calendar for vacation information. Members may spend their vacation time away unless a community event is planned for that time. In the event that a retreat or other community event is planned, Lalanne teachers must participate in the planned event.

The community will maintain a vacation calendar on which members will record the dates when they will be away.

Vehicles

Lalanne teachers may bring their own vehicles to the residence and are encouraged to offer rides to other members who may not have their own vehicles.

Other Important Information

Emergencies

It is especially important that Lalanne teachers contact the Lalanne Director immediately if there is any emergency or accident involving a Lalanne teacher or the Lalanne residence. This includes medical, household, automobile or programmatic emergencies.

Immediately report all accidents and instances of theft to the Director and, if appropriate, to the police. In case of an accident, mishap, or a substantial community conflict, Lalanne teachers may be asked to write an incident report that will be kept on file and used for clarification, if necessary.

In order to fully support Lalanne teachers, it is important that the Director be made aware of any difficulties a member may be having at school or in the community. Lalanne teachers should seek assistance from the principal, mentor teacher, or the Lalanne Director if discipline issues arise at school, or if difficulties with students' parents or other school staff members occur.

Health Benefits

Health benefits are provided through the program in cooperation with the University of Dayton.

Lalanne Office Hours

The Director may be reached either at The University of Dayton, Chaminade Hall 313, Monday through Friday, 8:30 a.m. to 4:30 p.m. The phone number at the office is 229-3709 or 229-3778. In the event of an emergency involving serious bodily injury or property damage, Lalanne teachers should contact the Director or any staff member at the office or at home.

Description of Personnel

The primary purpose of Lalanne staff, the school principals and the mentors is to provide support and guidance to Lalanne teachers throughout Lalanne experience.

Director

The Director is the person in charge of the day-to-day operations of Lalanne. The Director supervises the staff and Lalanne teachers, administers the budget, recruits and screens candidates, and develops policies and procedures.

Lalanne Teacher

A Lalanne teacher is one who has been accepted as a member of Lalanne and has accepted a teaching position within the program. Lalanne teachers live in community and dedicate themselves to two years of teaching service, a simple lifestyle, and a shared faith life. Lalanne teachers may also participate in other activities as part of their service commitment.

Mentors

The school principal assigns a mentor to each Lalanne teacher. The mentor is an experienced teacher (usually at the Lalanne member's school) who provides guidance and support to the volunteer. Ideally, the mentor teaches at the same general grade level as Lalanne member. Lalanne teachers are expected to heed the advice given by the principal, their mentors and other experienced teachers. Lalanne teachers must comply with the policies and procedures required of them at their individual schools. Mentor teachers and principals maintain regular contact with the Director in order to provide the best possible support to the Lalanne member.

Local/Diocesan Contact

Each community has a local/diocesan contact person. The contact person is appointed by the superintendent in conjunction with the Lalanne Director. The contact person will help the Lalanne teachers as they settle into the city and visit the community on a monthly basis. It is the responsibility of the Lalanne teachers to initiate this monthly visit and it should be set at a time where all of the teachers will be present. Setting the meeting at a time when prayer and/or a meal can be shared is ideal. The Lalanne teachers should look to the local contact person to help them with difficulties associated with adjusting to their new surroundings and/or with community issues. The contact person, in turn, should be in communication with the Lalanne Director about these concerns.

Administrative Assistant

The Receptionist/Secretary is responsible for providing administrative support for Lalanne. He/she is responsible for the day-to-day operation of the office and serves as a resource person to the public. The Receptionist/Secretary reports to the Director.

Selection Committee

The Selection Committee reviews applications and makes recommendations to the Director regarding the selection of candidates for Lalanne. The Selection Committee includes the Director and other persons asked by the Director to be a part of the committee.

Professional Development

Graduate Courses at University of Dayton

In each summer following their service, Lalanne teachers may take graduate courses in the School of Education or the Religious Studies Department tuition free at the University of Dayton. Normally a load of 12 semester credit hours may be taken. With the consent of the Director in consultation with academic advisors, participants may be able to take more credits.

Training Seminars & Programs

Lalanne teachers are expected to participate in training programs, workshops, and in-service days available to them through their schools.

AmeriCorps

CNVS/AEAP

Lalanne has been a member of the Catholic Network of Volunteer Service (CNVS) since 1999. CNVS assists member programs in many ways. Through CNVS, Lalanne teachers may participate in the AmeriCorps Education Awards Program (AEAP).

All Lalanne teachers are encouraged to participate in AEAP. With the Lalanne director, each teacher will determine at which level (full-time, part-time, reduced part-time) to enroll. For those teachers who will not be able to enroll as full-time AEAP participants because they teach religion, Lalanne will make up the difference between the AmeriCorps full-time award and the enrollment level of the teacher provided they participate in the summer school program at the University of Dayton. The award given by Lalanne is subject to all guidelines of the AmeriCorps award.

Teachers may participate in AmeriCorps for two years total.

Lalanne Recovery of Award

All teachers entering the Lalanne on or after April 1, 2001 contribute half of their first AEAP award (or its monetary equivalent) back to Lalanne to cover the cost of graduate work completed as part of the Lalanne program.

Acknowledgement

Special thanks to Dr. Madeleine Gervais of the Urban Catholic Teacher Corps at Boston College who graciously shared the handbook for that program with the Lalanne staff and which became the basis for this document.
